1. What Sparked my Interest in Transcultural Nursing

Early in my nursing career I became aware of inequities in health care, especially for Native Americans and for African Americans in the United States.

2. Present/Future Directions

I believe that transcultural nursing and health care will flourish as the need is increasing incrementally in our global world.

3. Favorite Transcultural Story

My favorite times were accompanying Dr. Leininger to meetings of nurses in a variety of settings. Her charismatic manner and passion for transcultural nursing was easily communicated, and one could see in the faces of the listeners each time that it was truly an “aha” moment for them.
